TOO LIGHT.

Booker T. Washington is a wonderful man," said a southerner at the Tuskegee meeting in Carnegie Hall last month. "There is no orator in America to equal him."

"He's full of fun, too. Once, when Tuskegee's future looked very dismal, he declared to me that the great school was bound to pull through, that you never could tell from appearances what the future held in store."

"Why," he said, mentioning a famous colored poet, "in his boyhood that chap was universally despised, even by his own mother. Even his own mother used to say of him that 'she guessed his was down in the books he gwine ter be hanged, an' she nebber could bear dat brat, anyways, 'kase he show dirt so easy.'"

A BOY ON CLERGYMEN.

Bishop Potter, at an ecclesiastical dinner in New York, read a Cooperstown schoolboy's essay on "Clergymen." The essay, which created much amusement, was as follows:

"There are 3 kinds of clergymen bishops, rectors and curats. The bishops tells the rectors to work and the curats have to do it. A curate is a thin married man but when he is a rector he gets fuller and can preach longer sermons and becoms a good man."

EDITOR STAR.—It is our belief that (the late president) Mr. Pinkham has done many kind and helpful deeds and that in his official work he often manifests the skill of a well educated and gifted man, exquisite penmanship for one thing; and it is our opinion that he deserves to be canonized, at least, and enrolled in the calendar of saints and martyrs. Had we not all, so recently, been robbed of all our small change by the Lilliputians, making it rather hard times for a season, we might ask Usborne to look round for a statue.

LAW REGARDING VETERINARIANS

An appeal was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Dr. John H. Pottle, from the ruling of the District Court against his practicing as a veterinarian in Honolulu without holding a Territorial license. The petitioner was fined, in the lower court, $10 and costs, and is making a test of the law which requires a veterinarian to pass an examination before being permitted to practice.

THE RISE IN SUGAR

Referring to the cablegrams to Alexander & Baldwin published yesterday, the local brokers feel greatly pleased at the prospect, as the advance was one from 4.06, the last quotation received here. This means an advance per ton of $1.20. According to Alexander & Baldwin there must have been a sale of at least 200 tons or they would not have been sent the cablegram dated April 10.

PARENTS HEAR TRAGEDY.

The parents of Sailor Stanley Ennis, who died in the open boat of the lost American ship Eclipse during the awful sixteen days' thirst and exposure between the abandoning of that vessel a thousand miles from here and Honolulu, have been heard from by United States Shipping Commissioner H. N. Almy. They are in New Bedford, Mass., and are well fixed. Stanley had a few dollars coming as wages and the money will be forwarded to the parents when the papers have been corrected, as there is some technical error in the certificate received from Massachusetts by Almy.

STATUE FOR PINKHAM.

EDITOR STAR.—It is our belief that (the late president) Mr. Pinkham has done many kind and helpful deeds and that in his official work he often manifests the skill of a well educated and gifted man, exquisite penmanship for one thing; and it is our opinion that he deserves to be canonized, at least, and enrolled in the calendar of saints and martyrs. Had we not all, so recently, been robbed of all our small change by the Lilliputians, making it rather hard times for a season, we might ask Usborne to look round for a statue.

SAILORS DESERT THEIR WIVES

Two young Portuguese women called upon U. S. Shipping Commissioner H. N. Almy Thursday and inquired whether or not their husbands had left as sailors aboard the ship Edward Sewall.

Mr. Almy stated that they had, after looking up the names in his record.

Cecilia Gomez, aged 21, declared that she had a baby three months old and her husband had not left any money or provision for herself or their child.

Lucy Gomez, aged 18, complained that she had a baby six months old and her husband had left no provision or money for their child or herself.

The ladies stated that they had left their wedding rings home on their respective chiffoniers.

Almy could do nothing but silently smoke a cigarette and listen to the weeping of the two wives and mothers because their husbands were afar on the briny.

STRAINED FAITH.

Little Betty had been playing quietly on the porch one afternoon, unnoticed by her father and a friend, who were discussing the recent financial panic. When the guest had gone, and bedtime had come, Betty was unusually silent and thoughtful. And when she knelt to say her prayers, a pause followed the usual petitions in behalf of "papa an' mamma an' Aunt Mary an' Uncle Tom an' Rover an' Bridget." Finally, with great earnestness, she resumed:

"An' now, God, please take great care of Yourself, 'cause if anything should happen to You we'd only have Mr. Roosevelt—an' he hasn't come up to papa's expectations."
